HURRICANE ISLAND OUTWARD BOUND SAILING SCHOOL

June 2014 – July 2014

Learned Survival skills, primitive cooking, knot tying, sailing, ecological preservation, and sea navigation. Left alone on Burnt Island for a period of 3 days with 1 days ration food, 1 gallon of water, and a ground tent; this experience is much like that of the Apache tribe in a sense you are brought close to your wits end alone in the woods and gain this selflessness and connection to nature that inspires all of my work. This 21 day course was a scholarship awarded to me. It was and is one of the most invaluable experiences of my life.

Skills

- I am very proud of the wide range of experience I have in many different areas. I am able to work very well in a leadership position because I tell people the truth and recognize their abilities. My own abilities revolve around my ability to learn and question what we believe is true.
- My exceptional memory leads me to pursue learning as much as possible.
- I believe strongly in knowing that which you can change, that which you can't, and the importance of being able to tell the difference between the two.
